Key Features

- Optimal Omega Fatty Acid Ratio: Contains an ideal 3:1 ratio of Omega-6 to Omega-3 essential fatty acids, crucial for cellular health, brain function, and inflammation modulation.
- Rich in Nutrients: A natural source of Vitamin E, chlorophyll, carotenoids, and various minerals that contribute to overall well-being.
- Antioxidant Properties: Helps combat oxidative stress and supports cellular integrity.
- Skin & Hair Benefits: Moisturizes, nourishes, and protects the skin barrier; promotes healthy hair growth and scalp condition.
- Sustainable and Organic: Sourced from organically grown hemp, promoting environmentally responsible farming practices.
- Versatile Applications: Suitable for dietary supplementation, culinary use, and topical application in skincare and haircare.

Application

Our Organic Hemp Seed Oil varieties can be used in numerous ways to enhance your health and culinary experiences:

- Organic Cold Pressed Hemp Seed Oil:

- Culinary: Excellent as a finishing oil for salads, dressings, dips, pestos, and drizzles over cooked vegetables or grains. Not recommended for high-heat cooking.
- Nutritional: Take directly as a supplement for essential fatty acid intake.

- Refined Hemp Seed Oil:

- Culinary: Its neutral taste and higher smoke point make it suitable for light sautéing, baking, and general cooking where a subtle flavor is desired.
- Cosmetic: An ideal base oil for DIY skincare products, massage oils, and hair treatments due to its light texture and lack of strong scent.

- Organic Hemp Hearts Oil:

- Culinary: Use in recipes where a very mild, slightly sweet nutty flavor is preferred. Great for delicate dressings or light sautés.
- Nutritional: A unique way to consume hemp's benefits, particularly if you prefer a less pronounced flavor than cold-pressed oil.

FAQs

Q: Can I cook with Organic Cold Pressed Hemp Seed Oil?

A: Organic Cold Pressed Hemp Seed Oil has a low smoke point and is best used as a finishing oil or in raw applications like dressings and smoothies to preserve its delicate nutrients.

Q: What's the best way to store Organic Hemp Seed Oil?

A: All Organic Hemp Seed Oil types should be stored in a cool, dark place, away from direct light and heat. Refrigeration is recommended after opening to extend freshness, especially for cold-pressed varieties.

Q: Is there a difference in nutritional content between the three oils?

A: While all contain essential fatty acids, Organic Cold Pressed Hemp Seed Oil retains the most vibrant profile of chlorophyll and other plant compounds. Refined Hemp Seed Oil has some nutrients removed during processing, while Organic Hemp Hearts Oil offers a slightly different balance due to being pressed from hulled seeds.

Q: Can Organic Hemp Seed Oil be used topically for skin or hair?

A: Absolutely! All our Organic Hemp Seed Oil varieties are excellent for topical use. Refined Hemp Seed Oil is often preferred for skincare due to its neutral scent and lighter feel, but cold-pressed and hemp hearts oil can also offer nourishing benefits.

Q: Is Organic Hemp Seed Oil the same as CBD oil?

A: No, Organic Hemp Seed Oil is pressed from the seeds of the hemp plant and primarily contains essential fatty acids, vitamins, and minerals. CBD oil (cannabidiol oil) is extracted from the flowers, leaves, and stalks of the hemp plant and contains cannabinoids. They are distinct products with different primary benefits.
